

About the project

The Camden Disabled People's Voices Project collects and shows Disabled people's stories.

The stories tell us what Disabled people think about the things that are important to them.

Camden Disability Action will use the stories to start talks with service providers and to fight for changes.

Why are we doing this project?

Camden Disability Action thinks that Disabled people are often treated badly.

A lot of the time people don't listen to us.

Or they don't make the changes that we need.

To make things better for Disabled people we need to tell our own stories and make our voices heard.

So, we started this project to make sure Disabled people can tell our stories.

And make sure we have somewhere to show our stories.

How does the project work?

We train Disabled people in community journalism and we ask the trainees to send us reports.

We also ask Disabled people who haven't done the training to send us reports as well.

This will help us get a lot of stories from a lot of Disabled people!

The stories can be about anything that you think is important for Disabled people in Camden.

So, it could be about transport, pavements, benefits, jobs, healthcare services, COVID-19 or whatever.

We ask Disabled people to use their phones to send in reports.

People can send in voice messages, texts or videos.

Or they can email them if they want.

All the stories will be received by staff at Camden Disability Action.

The staff will check over the stories and put some of them on this website.

Then Disabled volunteers at Camden Disability Action will use some of the stories to try to push service providers to make changes.

So where do you send the reports to?

You can send reports to these two phone numbers:

1. 07578665957 – this number is for people who don't have smart phones. It can receive voicemails and texts only.

2. 07858368033 – this number is for people who have Whatsapp. You can send Whatsapp videos, voice messages and texts to this number.

Staff check the reporting phone lines once per day between 9.30am and 5pm from Monday to Friday.

We will get back to you as soon as we can.

We will ask you if it's ok to keep your information.

And we will ask you if it's ok to put your report on the website in case we decide to put it there.

Important!

Please don't use these lines to report emergencies, crimes or abuse.

Please contact the emergency services or Camden Council's safeguarding team if you need to report these things.

Also, these are not an advice lines so we cannot advise you on any issue.

If you do want advice, please call Camden Disability Action's advice line: 07543 572793.
